Before You Begin

Every problem in your life is linked to a planet. And every planet has a remedy.

That is the whole logic of Vedic upay, and it has been applied in Indian homes for centuries. Money trouble, job delays, family arguments, poor health, a mind that will not rest — the tradition traces each one back to a graha, and prescribes something simple and specific to set it right.

Here is what most people get wrong: they think remedies need a pandit, an expensive gemstone, and a complicated ritual. They do not. The most powerful remedies in the entire tradition use water, rice, jaggery, sesame seeds, a copper vessel, a red cloth — things already in your kitchen. The old texts are direct about this: a remedy done with sincerity by your own hands is worth more than an elaborate ceremony paid for and forgotten.

HOW THIS BOOK WORKS

You do not need a birth chart to use it. Chapter 1 teaches you to identify which planet is troubling you from what is actually happening in your life. Then you go to that planet's chapter and start.

Every planet chapter gives you the same seven things:

1. What the planet controls
2. Signs it is weak or afflicted — so you can recognise your own situation
3. The daily remedy (5 minutes)
4. The weekly remedy (its own day)

5. Charity — what to give and to whom
6. The mantra, with the correct count
7. What to avoid — the don'ts, which matter as much as the do's

Later chapters give you remedies arranged by problem — money, career, marriage, health, court cases, education — so you can go straight to what you need.

AN HONEST NOTE BEFORE YOU START

Vedic remedies are traditional spiritual practices, not proven science. This book presents them faithfully as they have been handed down, because they carry real cultural and personal value. But please use them alongside practical action, not instead of it. A Saturn remedy will not replace applying for jobs. A health remedy will never replace a doctor. The tradition itself says this clearly — upay supports right effort; it was never meant to replace it.

Use these practices to steady your mind, build good habits, and act with more patience and generosity. That, in every generation, is where their real power has been.

Chapter 1: Which Planet Is Troubling You?

You do not need a kundli to answer this. Each planet governs a specific department of life, and when that planet is weak, the trouble shows up in exactly that department.

Read through the lists below and tick whatever is true for you right now. The list where you tick the most points is your planet. Start there.

SUN (Surya) — Authority, Father, Reputation, Confidence

- Trouble with your boss, seniors, or government departments
- Difficult or distant relationship with your father
- Your work is good but nobody notices or credits you
- Low confidence; you shrink in front of authority
- Repeated problems with licences, permits, official papers
- Weak eyesight, weak bones, low immunity, frequent low-grade illness
- You feel invisible in your own family or workplace

MOON (Chandra) — Mind, Mother, Peace, Emotions

- Mind never quiet; constant worry and overthinking
- Poor sleep, disturbed dreams
- Mood swings for no clear reason

- Difficulty or distance in your relationship with your mother
- You feel emotionally alone even among people
- Frequent crying, low mood, feeling unsettled
- Water problems in the house, or an unsettled living situation

MARS (Mangal) — Courage, Energy, Property, Siblings

- Anger out of proportion to the situation
- Frequent arguments, fights, disputes
- Property disputes or trouble with land and buildings
- Difficulty with brothers or sisters
- Accidents, cuts, burns, injuries
- Blood-related complaints, blood pressure, acidity, heat in the body
- You start things aggressively then abandon them

MERCURY (Budh) — Business, Speech, Intelligence, Communication

- Money keeps slipping away; you cannot explain where it goes
- People misunderstand what you say
- Business deals fall through at the last moment
- Poor memory; difficulty studying or concentrating
- You get cheated in transactions
- Skin problems, nervous complaints, stammering
- Trouble with your sister, daughter, or aunts

JUPITER (Guru) — Wisdom, Wealth, Marriage, Children

- Marriage getting delayed, or repeated proposals falling through
- Difficulty having children
- Money comes in but never accumulates
- No good guidance in your life; no mentor
- Loss of faith, feeling directionless
- Weight problems, liver complaints, diabetes in the family line
- Disrespect towards teachers or elders in your habits

VENUS (Shukra) — Love, Marriage, Comfort, Beauty

- Unhappiness in marriage or love life
- Attracted to people who are wrong for you
- Trouble with the women in your family
- No comfort or peace at home
- Vehicle problems, or your home feels ugly and unpleasant
- Kidney, urinary or reproductive complaints
- You feel unattractive and unwanted

SATURN (Shani) — Career, Discipline, Delays, Hard Work

- Everything is delayed; nothing happens on time
- You work harder than everyone and get the least
- Job instability; repeated job loss
- Chronic problems that drag on for years

- Feeling stuck, heavy, hopeless, like life is one long uphill road
- Joint pain, knee pain, back pain, chronic fatigue
- Trouble with servants, workers, or older people

RAHU — Confusion, Sudden Events, Illusion, Foreign

- Sudden unexpected problems out of nowhere
- Confusion; you cannot think straight or make decisions
- Addictions of any kind
- Fear and anxiety with no identifiable cause
- Deceived by people you trusted
- Strange, unexplained health problems that doctors cannot pin down
- Attracted to shortcuts and get-rich-quick schemes

KETU — Detachment, Spirituality, Losses, Isolation

- Sudden losses that make no sense
- Feeling detached from everything, including things you used to love
- Isolation; you have withdrawn from people
- Strong spiritual pull, or the opposite — total emptiness
- Skin problems, unexplained pains, mystery symptoms
- Repeated obstacles right at the finish line of things
- Confusion about your own purpose

How to use your result

One clear planet: go straight to its chapter and follow the remedies for at least 40 days.

Two or three planets tied: do not do everything at once. Pick the one causing you the most practical difficulty today and do only that for 40 days. Then move to the next. Remedies work by depth, not by volume.

Everything ticked: this usually means Saturn, Rahu, or a long unsettled period, not nine bad planets. Start with Chapter 8 (Saturn), and read Chapter 13 on Sade Sati.

Chapter 2: The Seven Rules of Remedies

Before a single remedy, learn these. Traditional teachers were strict about them, and a remedy done against these rules is considered wasted effort.

Rule 1: Do it yourself

A remedy performed by your own hands carries weight. A remedy you pay someone else to perform on your behalf carries very little. Hire a pandit for a large ceremony if you wish, but the daily upay must be yours.

Rule 2: Start on the right day

Start any planet's remedy on that planet's own day — Sunday for the Sun, Monday for the Moon, and so on. If you cannot, start on any Sunday, which is considered a safe beginning for anything.

Rule 3: Continue for at least 40 days

Forty days — one mandal — is the minimum for a remedy to be considered complete. Some remedies run 43 days, some for 11 or 21 weeks. But 40 unbroken days is the standard.

If you break the chain, start counting again from day one. This is not superstition dressed up as strictness. The entire mechanism of a remedy is the building of an unbroken habit, and an unbroken habit is exactly what a broken chain destroys.

Rule 4: Never do remedies for many planets at once

The most common mistake. Someone reads a book like this, panics, and starts nine remedies on Monday morning. By Thursday they have stopped all nine.

Maximum two planets at one time. One is better.

Rule 5: Charity must go to the right person

Daan only counts when it reaches someone who genuinely needs it. Giving black cloth to a wealthy friend is not a Saturn remedy. Give to the poor, the elderly, workers, the sick, animals, and birds.

And give quietly. The tradition is clear that charity announced loudly loses its effect – the merit goes to the announcement rather than the act.

Rule 6: Conduct is the real remedy

This is the rule everybody skips, and it is the most important one in this book.

- A Sun remedy is worthless while you disrespect your father.
- A Moon remedy is worthless while you speak harshly to your mother.
- A Venus remedy is worthless while you humiliate your wife.
- A Saturn remedy is worthless while you look down on your servant or your driver.
- A Mercury remedy is worthless while you lie in small matters.

The ritual is the outer half. Conduct is the inner half. The old teachers said plainly that a person who fixes the conduct and never performs the ritual gets a better result than one who performs the ritual and never fixes the conduct.

Rule 7: Never wear a gemstone without expert consultation

You will be told everywhere that a stone solves everything. Please be careful.

A gemstone strengthens a planet. If that planet is badly placed in your chart, you have just strengthened the thing that was causing the damage. Blue sapphire (Neelam) for Saturn is the classic example — powerful, and capable of doing real harm to the wrong wearer.

This book prescribes no gemstones, and that is deliberate. Every remedy here is free or nearly free, safe for anyone, and cannot backfire. If you want a stone, see a qualified astrologer with your actual birth chart — never buy one from an advertisement or a shop that reads your palm in two minutes.

Chapter 3: SUN (Surya) – Authority, Confidence and Recognition

Day: Sunday Colour: Red, orange, saffron Metal: Copper Grain: Wheat Governs: Father, government, authority, reputation, bones, eyes, self-confidence, the soul itself

When the Sun is weak

You are capable but overlooked. Seniors do not value you. Government work never moves. Your relationship with your father is strained or distant. You lack the confidence to ask for what you deserve. Physically: weak eyes, weak bones, low immunity, a general lack of vitality.

Daily remedy — Surya Arghya (5 minutes)

The single most important Sun remedy in the tradition, and it costs nothing.

1. Wake before sunrise and bathe.
2. Fill a copper vessel with water. Add a pinch of roli (red kumkum) and a few red flower petals if available.
3. Stand facing east, where the sun is rising.
4. Raise the vessel to forehead height with both hands and pour the water slowly in a thin stream, so that you can see the sunlight through the falling water.
5. While pouring, chant: Om Suryaya Namah (repeat 11 times)

6. Look at the rising sun through the falling water for a moment.
7. Do a small pranam to the sun.

Do this every day, without missing a day, for 40 days. Do it before eating anything.

One caution: only look at the sun in the first fifteen minutes after sunrise, when it is soft and orange. Never look at a bright sun. Your eyesight matters more than any ritual.

Sunday remedy

- Wear red, orange or saffron
- Give wheat and jaggery to a poor person
- Eat one meal only, without salt, if you are able (optional but traditional)
- Offer water and red flowers at a Surya or Vishnu temple
- Do not eat non-vegetarian food or drink alcohol on this day

Charity for the Sun

Give any of these, to someone who genuinely needs them:

- Wheat
- Jaggery (gud)
- Copper items
- Red cloth
- Ruby-coloured items (not actual gemstones)

Give on Sunday, at midday, quietly.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Hraam Hreem Hraum Sah Suryaya Namah Count: 7,000 in total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: sunrise

Simple version if the beej mantra is difficult: Om Suryaya Namah, 108 times daily. It is fully effective, and better done than a longer mantra abandoned.

Also traditional: the Aditya Hridaya Stotra — the hymn Rama was given before facing Ravana. Recite on Sunday mornings for confidence and courage.

Household remedies for the Sun

- Drink water that has been kept in a copper vessel overnight, first thing in the morning
- Add a pinch of saffron to milk
- Keep a copper coin or a small copper piece in your wallet
- Let sunlight enter the east side of your house each morning — do not keep the east blocked and dark
- Eat something sweet before leaving home for important work

Conduct — the real Sun remedy

- Respect your father. Touch his feet. Call him. Do not argue with him. If he has passed, offer water in his name on Sundays and on his death anniversary. In the tradition, this outweighs every ritual for the Sun.
- Respect elder male relatives, teachers and seniors
- Never take credit for another person's work — the Sun is the planet of true reputation, and false credit damages it directly

- Keep your promises publicly
- Do not be arrogant. An arrogant person has a damaged Sun, not a strong one.

What to avoid

- Do not accept copper, wheat or red items as a gift from anyone
- Do not eat before offering water to the sun, on the days you are doing this remedy
- Do not sleep late into the morning — the tradition treats sleeping past sunrise as the fastest way to weaken the Sun
- Do not insult your father or elders, even in your thoughts

Chapter 4: MOON (Chandra) – Mind, Peace and Mother

Day: Monday Colour: White, silver, cream Metal: Silver Grain: Rice
Governs: Mind, emotions, mother, peace, sleep, water, the chest and stomach

When the Moon is weak

Your mind will not stop. You worry about things that have not happened. Sleep is poor and dreams are disturbed. Moods swing without reason. You feel emotionally alone. Your relationship with your mother is strained, or she is unwell or unhappy. Physically: stomach complaints, water retention, chest congestion, low emotional stamina.

The Moon is the most commonly afflicted planet in modern life, and the reason is not hard to identify. The Moon rules the mind's ability to rest, and almost nobody rests any more.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Drink water from a silver glass if you have one; a clean steel glass is the accepted substitute.
2. Before sleeping, sit for five minutes with the eyes closed and simply watch your breath. Do not force anything.
3. Chant Om Somaya Namah 11 times before sleep.
4. Keep a glass of water beside your bed overnight; in the morning, use it to water a plant rather than drinking it. This is a traditional practice for absorbing disturbed mental energy.

Monday remedy

- Wear white or light colours
- Offer water or milk on a Shivling at a Shiva temple. Say Om Namah Shivaya while pouring. This is the classical Moon remedy and considered the strongest of all.
- Give rice, milk, curd, white cloth or sugar in charity
- Fast if you are able — many keep a Monday fast, eating once in the evening
- Feed something white to a white cow if you can find one

Charity for the Moon

- Rice
- Milk and curd
- White cloth
- Silver items
- Sugar or misri
- Water — installing or supporting a public water source is considered a very high Moon remedy

Give on Monday evening, quietly.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Shraam Shreem Shraum Sah Chandraya Namah

Count: 11,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: evening, or before sleep

Simple version: Om Somaya Namah, or simply Om Namah Shivaya, 108 times.

Shiva wears the moon on his head. In the tradition, any sincere worship of Shiva strengthens the Moon — which is why Om Namah Shivaya is the most widely used Moon remedy in Indian homes.

Household remedies for the Moon

- Keep a silver item with you — a ring, a coin, a small chain
- Drink water stored in a silver or clean steel vessel
- Keep a water source in the north-east of your home, clean and never stagnant
- Fix all leaking taps. Traditional Vastu links dripping water directly to a leaking mind and leaking money.
- Keep white flowers in the house
- Sleep with your head towards the south or east, never the north
- Get moonlight on you on a full moon night for a few minutes

Conduct — the real Moon remedy

- Serve your mother. Touch her feet. Never raise your voice to her. Give her time, not only money. In the Indian tradition the mother is the Moon, and no ritual substitutes for this relationship being right.
- Respect elderly women and mother figures
- Do not make anyone cry, especially a woman or a child. This is stated in the classical texts as directly damaging to the Moon.
- Keep water clean; never waste it or pollute it
- Be gentle in speech. A harsh tongue and a peaceful mind cannot live in the same person.

What to avoid

- Do not accept milk, rice or silver as a gift
- Do not drink alcohol — it is considered severely damaging to the Moon
- Avoid screens for at least an hour before sleep
- Do not keep dirty water, an unwashed water tank, or a stagnant container anywhere in the home
- Do not sleep in a dirty or cluttered bedroom

Chapter 5: MARS (Mangal) – Courage, Energy and Property

Day: Tuesday Colour: Red Metal: Copper, brass Grain: Masoor dal (red lentils) Governs: Courage, energy, blood, siblings, land and property, arguments, accidents, surgery

When Mars is weak or afflicted

Two very different pictures, and you must identify which one is yours.

Weak Mars: no courage. You avoid every confrontation. People walk over you. You cannot finish what you start. Low physical energy. You know what is right but cannot say it.

Afflicted / over-strong Mars: anger you cannot control. Constant arguments. Fights with brothers or neighbours. Property disputes. Accidents, cuts and burns. High blood pressure, acidity, excessive heat in the body. You destroy your own work in a moment of temper.

Most people reading this book have the second one.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Hanuman Chalisa — one recitation daily. This is the principal Mars remedy in the entire Indian tradition, and the one most widely practised.
2. Chant Om Angarakaya Namah 11 times.

3. Before reacting in anger, count to ten and drink a glass of water. Treat this as part of the remedy, not as separate advice — for Mars it is the remedy.

Tuesday remedy

- Visit a Hanuman temple
- Offer red flowers, a red cloth, or sindoor to Hanuman
- Light a mustard oil or ghee lamp before Hanuman
- Recite the Hanuman Chalisa — many keep 11 recitations on Tuesday
- Give red masoor dal, jaggery or red cloth in charity
- Eat vegetarian food only; many keep a Tuesday fast
- Feed a monkey or a stray dog if you can

Charity for Mars

- Red masoor dal
- Red cloth
- Copper items
- Jaggery
- Sweets given to children

Give on Tuesday. Traditionally, Mars charity given to a temple or to workers has strong effect.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Kraam Kreem Kraum Sah Bhaumaya Namah Count: 10,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: Tuesday morning

Simple version: Om Angarakaya Namah, 108 times

Most widely used: the Hanuman Chalisa — for anger, fear, obstacles, enemies and courage. If you do nothing else in this chapter, do this.

Household remedies for Mars

- Keep a red cloth or a piece of coral-coloured cloth with you
- Keep the south direction of your house clean and well-lit
- A copper or brass item in the south of the home
- Do not keep broken or rusted iron, damaged tools, or old blades anywhere in the house
- Sweet items eaten and given away cool the temper — traditionally very effective for Mars

Conduct — the real Mars remedy

- Control your anger. This is not additional advice; it is the remedy. Traditional teachers state that Mars remedies performed by an angry person produce nothing at all, because Mars strengthened without control simply becomes more destructive.
- Respect your brothers and sisters. Mend a broken relationship with a sibling if you have one.
- Never hit anyone, and never threaten anyone
- Do not take part in property disputes driven by greed. Give up a small share to keep peace — this is stated in the tradition as a direct Mars remedy.
- Do not cut down trees unnecessarily
- Protect people weaker than you. Mars energy used to defend is healthy; used to dominate it turns on its owner.

What to avoid

- Do not accept red items, land or weapons as gifts
- Avoid non-vegetarian food and alcohol on Tuesdays
- Avoid excessive spicy and fried food if your Mars runs hot
- Do not start disputes, sign property papers, or send angry messages on a Tuesday
- Do not keep sharp broken objects at home

Chapter 6: MERCURY (Budh) – Business, Speech and Intelligence

Day: Wednesday Colour: Green Metal: Bronze Grain: Moong dal (green gram) Governs: Intelligence, speech, business, trade, communication, skin, nerves, sister and daughter

When Mercury is weak

Money slips through your hands and you cannot trace where. Deals collapse at the final stage. People misunderstand your words. Memory is poor and study is hard. You are cheated in transactions. Your speech is unclear, or you speak too much and say too little. Physically: skin trouble, nervous complaints, speech difficulties.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Chant Om Budhaya Namah 11 times.
2. Do not lie today. Not once, not even a small one. Mercury is the planet of speech, and the tradition treats truthful speech as the direct remedy – the mantra supports it, but does not replace it.
3. Keep a small green item – a green handkerchief, a green thread on the wrist.

Wednesday remedy

- Wear green

- Feed green fodder or spinach to a cow — the classical Mercury remedy
- Give moong dal, green vegetables or green cloth in charity
- Worship Lord Ganesha — offer durva grass and modak or laddoo
- Donate books, pens or notebooks to poor students. Highly recommended for Mercury.
- Avoid non-vegetarian food

Charity for Mercury

- Moong dal (whole green)
- Green cloth
- Green vegetables
- Books, pens, stationery for students
- Bronze items
- Fodder for cows

Give on Wednesday, quietly.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Braam Breem Braum Sah Budhaya Namah Count: 9,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: Wednesday morning

Simple version: Om Budhaya Namah, 108 times

Also very effective: Om Gan Ganapataye Namah — Ganesha governs intelligence, speech and the removal of obstacles, and is the most accessible Mercury remedy for most households.

Household remedies for Mercury

- Keep a green plant in the house — tulsi, money plant, or any healthy green plant. Never let it dry out.
- Wear a green thread on the right wrist
- Keep a bronze item at home
- Keep the north direction clean — Mercury's direction
- Keep your accounts and papers organised. Mercury is the planet of records; disordered accounts weaken it and cost you money in the ordinary way as well.
- Use green cardamom in your food

Conduct — the real Mercury remedy

- Never break your word, even in small things. If you say you will call at six, call at six. Mercury is built by kept promises and destroyed by broken ones.
- Do not lie. Not white lies, not exaggerations, not convenient stories.
- Respect your sister, daughter, and aunts. Send gifts to your sister on Wednesdays — a well-known traditional practice.
- Never cheat in business, and never take money that is not yours
- Do not mock or imitate anyone with a speech difficulty or a disability — the texts single this out as directly damaging to Mercury
- Teach someone something for free. Sharing knowledge is a Mercury remedy in itself.

What to avoid

- Do not accept green items or books as gifts on Wednesday

- Do not gossip or spread rumours
- Do not sign contracts in a hurry without reading them
- Do not use dishonest shortcuts in business
- Avoid harsh, sarcastic or cutting speech

Chapter 7: JUPITER (Guru) – Wisdom, Wealth and Marriage

Day: Thursday Colour: Yellow Metal: Gold Grain: Chana dal (Bengal gram) Governs: Wisdom, wealth, teachers, children, marriage (especially for women), religion, the liver, expansion of every kind

Jupiter is considered the most benefic planet in Vedic astrology. A strong Jupiter can protect a person even when several other planets are weak. If you are unsure where to start, this is a good chapter to start with.

When Jupiter is weak

Marriage is delayed, or proposals keep breaking. Difficulty having children. Money comes but never stays. No mentor, no guidance, no direction. Loss of faith. Bad advice from people you trust. Physically: liver trouble, weight problems, diabetes.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Chant Om Brihaspataye Namah 11 times.
2. Apply a small turmeric or saffron tilak on your forehead.
3. Take a moment to think of your teachers – school, college, work, life – with genuine gratitude. Jupiter is Guru, and gratitude towards teachers is the practice at the centre of every Jupiter remedy.

Thursday remedy

- Wear yellow

- Eat yellow food — chana dal, besan, yellow sweets, turmeric-rich dishes
- Give chana dal, turmeric, yellow cloth, or bananas in charity
- Visit a temple; offer yellow flowers and turmeric
- Feed a cow with jaggery and chana dal — a highly regarded Jupiter remedy
- Water a peepal tree and offer a lamp beneath it — traditionally very strong for Jupiter
- Do not wash hair or cut hair and nails on Thursday
- Avoid non-vegetarian food

Charity for Jupiter

- Chana dal
- Turmeric
- Yellow cloth
- Bananas
- Books, especially religious or educational
- Gold-coloured items
- Ghee

Give to a teacher, a priest, a student, or a poor person, on Thursday.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Graam Greem Graum Sah Gurave Namah Count: 19,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: Thursday morning

Simple version: Om Brihaspataye Namah, 108 times

For delayed marriage, traditionally: Om Guruve Namah recited by the person seeking marriage, combined with fasting on Thursdays. Widely practised in Indian homes for exactly this purpose.

Household remedies for Jupiter

- Keep a turmeric root wrapped in yellow cloth in your money place
- Add a pinch of turmeric to your bath water occasionally
- Keep the north-east corner of the home clean, open and uncluttered — Jupiter's direction
- Keep religious books in the home, treated with respect and never placed on the floor
- Wear gold if you have it, even a small item
- Keep a yellow cloth in your cash box

Conduct — the real Jupiter remedy

- Respect teachers and elders. Touch the feet of your teachers. Contact an old teacher who taught you something that mattered. This is the primary Jupiter remedy.
- Respect religion — your own and other people's
- Never disrespect a priest, a guru, or a genuinely learned person
- Give guidance freely to anyone younger who asks. Jupiter grows by teaching.
- Do not give bad advice, and do not give advice for personal gain
- Do not cheat anyone who trusted you
- Keep faith in something larger than yourself. Jupiter is the planet of faith, and cynicism weakens it.

What to avoid

- Do not accept yellow items, gold or religious books as gifts on Thursday
- Do not eat non-vegetarian food or drink alcohol on Thursday
- Do not disrespect food or waste it
- Do not cut down or damage a peepal or banana tree
- Do not speak against anyone's religion

Chapter 8: VENUS (Shukra) – Love, Marriage and Comfort

Day: Friday Colour: White, pink, light shades Metal: Silver, platinum
Grain: Rice, white beans Governs: Love, marriage (especially for men), beauty, comfort, luxury, vehicles, art, the wife, the kidneys and reproductive system

When Venus is weak

Unhappiness in marriage or love. Attraction to people who are wrong for you. Trouble with the women in your family. No comfort or beauty in your home. Vehicle problems. You feel unattractive and unwanted. Physically: kidney and urinary complaints, reproductive difficulties, skin dullness.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Chant Om Shukraya Namah 11 times.
2. Keep yourself clean and well presented. Venus is the planet of beauty, and neglecting your own appearance and cleanliness weakens it — the tradition is quite direct about this.
3. Say one genuinely kind thing to a woman in your family. Every single day.

Friday remedy

- Wear white or light-coloured clothes
- Offer white flowers, curd, rice or white sweets at a temple — many worship Lakshmi or Durga on Friday

- Give white sweets, curd, rice or white cloth in charity
- Buy something for your wife, mother, sister or daughter
- Feed a cow with white food
- Clean the house thoroughly — Venus does not settle in an unclean home
- Avoid sour food and non-vegetarian food

Charity for Venus

- Curd
- Rice
- White cloth
- Sugar, misri, white sweets
- Silver items
- Perfume or scented items
- Clothes and items given to poor women

Give on Friday, quietly.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Draam Dreem Draum Sah Shukraya Namah Count: 16,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: Friday morning

Simple version: Om Shukraya Namah, 108 times

Also traditional: Om Shreem Mahalakshmyai Namah on Fridays, for comfort, prosperity and harmony in the home.

Household remedies for Venus

- Keep the bedroom clean, pleasant, and free of clutter. In the tradition this is a genuine Venus remedy, not just housekeeping.
- Never argue in the bedroom. Traditional teachers are firm about this — a bedroom used for fighting weakens the Venus of everyone who sleeps there.
- Keep fresh flowers in the house
- Use perfume or a pleasant fragrance; keep the house smelling clean
- Keep the south-east of the home clean — Venus's direction
- Keep a silver item at home
- Do not keep broken mirrors, torn bedsheets, or damaged furniture — Venus rules beauty, and broken beauty in a home is treated as an affliction

Conduct — the real Venus remedy

- Respect the women in your household. Wife, mother, sisters, daughters. Never speak harshly to them, never humiliate them in front of others. In the traditional view Venus is strengthened or damaged directly by how a man treats the women in his home, and no ritual overrides it.
- Never break a woman's trust
- Keep your marriage vows. Venus is damaged by betrayal more than by any other single act.
- Appreciate beauty — art, music, nature. Venus grows in someone who notices beautiful things.
- Be generous, but not wasteful
- Keep yourself clean and presentable

What to avoid

- Do not accept white items, perfume, silver or clothes as gifts on Friday
- Do not humiliate or insult any woman
- Do not be involved in relationships outside your marriage
- Do not keep a dirty, dark, cluttered bedroom
- Avoid excessive sour food on Fridays

Chapter 9: SATURN (Shani) – Career, Discipline and Justice

Day: Saturday Colour: Black, dark blue Metal: Iron Grain: Black urad dal, black sesame Governs: Career, hard work, discipline, delays, old age, justice, servants and workers, chronic illness, longevity

Saturn is the most feared planet, and the most misunderstood one. Shani is not a punisher — in the tradition he is the judge who gives you exactly the result of your own actions, not more and not less. A Saturn period feels harsh only when the results arriving are the ones you built.

Saturn is also the giver of the greatest and most permanent success, because what Saturn gives, Saturn does not take back.

When Saturn is weak or afflicted

Everything is delayed. You work harder than anyone and receive least. Repeated job loss and instability. Chronic problems that drag on for years. A heavy, stuck, hopeless feeling. Trouble with workers, servants and older people. Physically: joint pain, knee pain, back pain, chronic fatigue, long-term illness.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Chant Om Shanicharaya Namah 11 times, or recite the Hanuman Chalisa — Hanuman is traditionally held to protect from Shani's severity, and this is the most common Saturn remedy in Indian homes.

2. Feed a crow or a stray dog. Both are Saturn's creatures. A roti given daily to a street dog is a complete Saturn remedy in itself.
3. Do your work honestly, especially the part nobody is checking.

Saturday remedy

- Visit a Shani temple or a Hanuman temple
- Offer mustard oil to Shani; light a mustard oil lamp under a peepal tree in the evening
- Give black sesame seeds, black urad dal, mustard oil, iron items, black cloth, or a blanket in charity
- Feed the poor, the elderly, or labourers. This is the strongest form of Shani remedy.
- Recite the Shani Chalisa or the Dasharatha Shani Stotra
- Many keep a Saturday fast, eating once in the evening
- Wear black or dark blue
- Avoid non-vegetarian food and alcohol

Charity for Saturn

- Black sesame seeds (til)
- Black urad dal
- Mustard oil
- Iron items
- Black cloth
- Blankets, especially in winter
- Shoes and slippers given to a poor person — considered a particularly powerful Shani remedy
- Food to workers, sweepers, the elderly and the disabled

Give on Saturday evening, quietly and with genuine respect for the person receiving.

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Praam Preem Praum Sah Shanaischaraya Namah

Count: 23,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: Saturday evening

Simple version: Om Shanicharaya Namah, 108 times

Most widely used: the Hanuman Chalisa, daily. If Saturn is troubling you and you do one thing only, do this one.

Household remedies for Saturn

- Keep an iron item in the house
- Keep the west direction clean — Saturn's direction
- Do not keep the house dirty, and never let rubbish accumulate. Saturn settles into neglected, dirty spaces.
- Light a mustard oil lamp on Saturday evenings
- Keep a piece of black cloth in your cupboard
- Water a peepal tree and light a lamp under it on Saturday evening
- Repair whatever is broken in your home rather than leaving it broken

Conduct — the real Saturn remedy

This chapter's conduct section matters more than any other in the book, because Saturn responds to conduct more than any other planet.

- Never disrespect a servant, a driver, a sweeper, a labourer, or anyone who works with their hands. Learn their names. Pay them on time. Pay them fairly. Traditional teachers state that no Saturn remedy works at all while a person is arrogant towards those who serve them.
- Serve the elderly, the poor and the disabled. Actively look for the chance.
- Do your work honestly. Shani is called the giver of the fruits of action; clean effort produces clean results eventually, and the "eventually" is Saturn's own signature.
- Keep one fixed routine and never break it. Saturn is structure. Structure is built by repetition.
- Be patient. Saturn delays; it rarely denies. Anger at delay is what turns a Saturn phase from difficult into destructive.
- Never take what belongs to someone weaker than you
- Never break a promise made to someone who cannot hold you to it

What to avoid

- Do not accept iron, black items, oil or leather as gifts on Saturday
- Do not drink alcohol or eat non-vegetarian food on Saturday
- Do not insult old people, workers, or the disabled
- Do not cut hair or nails on Saturday
- Do not start a new venture on a Saturday

- Do not take shortcuts or act dishonestly during a Saturn period — the result during Shani's phase comes back fast and hard

Chapter 10: RAHU – Confusion, Sudden Events and Illusion

Day: Saturday (and Rahu Kaal daily) Colour: Smoky grey, dark blue, multicolour Grain: Black gram, mustard seeds Governs: Sudden events, confusion, foreign lands, technology, addiction, illusion, deception, obsession

Rahu is a shadow planet — not a physical body, but the north lunar node. It has no head of its own, and the tradition uses that image precisely: Rahu is desire without judgement. It gives suddenly and takes suddenly, and it makes things appear to be what they are not.

When Rahu is afflicted

Sudden problems out of nowhere. Confusion; you cannot make decisions or think clearly. Addictions of any kind. Anxiety and fear with no identifiable cause. Deceived by people you trusted. Strange health complaints doctors cannot pin down. A strong pull towards shortcuts, gambling and get-rich-quick schemes.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Chant Om Rahave Namah 11 times, or recite the Durga Chalisa. Goddess Durga is traditionally held to govern Rahu.
2. Keep a piece of silver with you.
3. Do not act on any big decision in a hurry. Rahu's damage happens in the moment of impulse — a 24-hour delay before deciding is itself a Rahu remedy.

Weekly remedy

- Give mustard seeds, black gram, a blue or grey blanket in charity
- Feed birds, especially at sunset
- Offer coconut water to a flowing river or a tree
- Worship Durga or Bhairav
- Donate to lepers, the mentally ill, or the outcast — traditionally considered a strong Rahu remedy
- Keep a fast on Saturdays

Charity for Rahu

- Mustard seeds
- Black gram (urad)
- Blue or grey blankets
- Coconut
- Radish
- Multi-coloured cloth
- Donations to the mentally ill or the destitute

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Bhraam Bhreem Bhraum Sah Rahave Namah Count: 18,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days Best time: during Rahu Kaal, or at night

Simple version: Om Rahave Namah, 108 times

Also strongly recommended: the Durga Chalisa or Om Dum Durgaye Namah.

Household remedies for Rahu

- Keep a coconut at home and replace it periodically
- Flow coconut or barley in running water when in serious difficulty
- Keep the south-west of your home clean and heavy
- Do not keep broken electronics, dead gadgets, or tangled wires — Rahu rules technology and settles into that clutter
- Keep a silver item with you
- Avoid keeping unused, dark, cluttered store rooms

Conduct — the real Rahu remedy

- Stay away from all addictions. Alcohol, drugs, gambling, pornography, compulsive phone use. Rahu is addiction, and no ritual works while the addiction continues.
- Do not chase shortcuts. Rahu's whole method is to make an illusion look like an opportunity. If something looks too good to be true, that recognition is your Rahu remedy.
- Do not deceive anyone. Deception done comes back as deception received under Rahu.
- Respect outcasts — the poor, the disabled, the mentally ill, those society avoids
- Keep your life simple. Rahu grows in complexity, secrecy and excess.
- Do not obsess. Recognise when a desire has taken hold of you and step back deliberately.

What to avoid

- Do not gamble or speculate

- Avoid alcohol, drugs and intoxicants entirely
- Do not make big decisions during Rahu Kaal (the inauspicious 90-minute window each day; it varies by day and location, and any panchang or app will give you the exact timing)
- Do not trust people who make impossible promises
- Do not keep dark, dirty, cluttered spaces
- Do not lie to escape a situation

Chapter 11: KETU – Detachment, Loss and Spirituality

Day: Tuesday Colour: Grey, brown, multicolour Grain: Horse gram (kulthi), sesame Governs: Detachment, spirituality, sudden loss, isolation, moksha, mystery, past-life karma

Ketu is the south lunar node — the body without a head. Where Rahu is endless desire, Ketu is the sudden absence of desire. Ketu takes things away, and the tradition holds that it takes what you were holding too tightly. A Ketu period is uncomfortable and is also, in the classical view, the most spiritually productive time in a life.

When Ketu is afflicted

Sudden losses that make no sense. Detachment from everything, including what you used to love. Isolation and withdrawal. Confusion about your purpose. Obstacles right at the finish line, again and again. Physically: skin problems, unexplained pains, symptoms that do not resolve into a diagnosis.

Daily remedy (5 minutes)

1. Chant Om Ketave Namah 11 times, or recite the Ganesh mantra — Om Gan Ganapataye Namah. Ganesha traditionally governs Ketu.
2. Feed a stray dog. The classical Ketu remedy, simple and complete.
3. Spend five minutes in silence, doing nothing. Ketu is the planet of detachment; deliberate stillness satisfies it.

Weekly remedy

- Give grey or brown blankets, sesame seeds, or horse gram in charity
- Feed dogs, especially brown or multi-coloured stray dogs
- Worship Lord Ganesha; offer durva grass
- Donate to an ashram, a temple, or a spiritual institution
- Give food to sadhus, sanyasis, and the homeless

Charity for Ketu

- Sesame seeds
- Horse gram (kulthi dal)
- Grey or brown blankets
- Multi-coloured cloth
- Food to dogs
- Donations to spiritual institutions

Mantra

Beej mantra: Om Straam Streem Straum Sah Ketave Namah Count: 17,000 total, or 108 daily for 40 days

Simple version: Om Ketave Namah, 108 times

Also strongly recommended: Om Gan Ganapataye Namah — Ganesha removes obstacles, which is precisely Ketu's difficulty.

Household remedies for Ketu

- Keep a dog if you can, or feed one daily
- Keep a flag on your rooftop — a traditional Ketu remedy

- Keep the house free of unnecessary possessions. Ketu is detachment; hoarding works directly against it.
- Keep a multi-coloured or grey cloth at home
- Wear silver

Conduct — the real Ketu remedy

- Practise letting go. Give away something you are attached to but do not need. This is the essential Ketu remedy.
- Respect sadhus, spiritual people and the homeless. Never mock anyone who has renounced.
- Do some form of spiritual practice — prayer, meditation, chanting, anything sincere and regular
- Do not become obsessed with material accumulation
- Serve animals, especially dogs
- Accept that some losses are simply the closing of a chapter. The tradition's view of Ketu is that resisting a loss it has decided on only extends the pain.

What to avoid

- Do not be greedy or hoard
- Do not mock spirituality or spiritual people
- Do not harm animals, dogs above all
- Do not isolate yourself completely — Ketu's detachment becomes damaging when it turns into total withdrawal
- Do not chase what has clearly already gone

Chapter 12: Remedies by Problem – Go Straight to Your Situation

Find your problem. Do exactly what is listed. Do it for 40 days.

Money is not staying

Planets: Jupiter (wealth), Mercury (earning), Venus (comfort)

- Thursday: chana dal and turmeric in charity; feed a cow with jaggery
- Keep a turmeric root wrapped in yellow cloth in your cash box
- Wednesday: green items in charity; keep your accounts organised
- Friday: worship Lakshmi; keep the house clean, especially the entrance
- Never let your purse or cash box be completely empty
- Water a peepal tree on Saturday evening and light a lamp
- Do not count your earnings with resentment, and do not speak badly about money

Job is not coming, or the job is unstable

Planets: Saturn (career), Sun (recognition)

- Saturday: feed crows and stray dogs; give black sesame or a blanket in charity
- Daily: Hanuman Chalisa
- Sunday: offer water to the rising sun with Om Suryaya Namah
- Respect every worker and junior you meet

- Keep one unbroken daily routine — waking time, working time
- Practically: apply consistently, follow up, and improve one skill. The tradition never intended upay to replace effort.

Marriage is getting delayed

Planets: Jupiter (for women), Venus (for men)

- Thursday: fast; wear yellow; give chana dal, turmeric and bananas in charity
- Daily: Om Brihaspataye Namah, 108 times
- Water a peepal tree on Thursday and light a lamp
- For men: Friday Venus remedies — white sweets, respect towards the women in the family
- Worship Shiva and Parvati together; offer water on a Shivling on Mondays
- Keep the north-east of the home clean and open
- Do not speak badly about marriage or about married people

Constant fighting at home

Planets: Venus (harmony), Mars (anger), Moon (peace)

- Keep the bedroom clean, uncluttered, and free of arguments
- Friday: white sweets, white flowers, something bought for the women of the house
- Tuesday: Hanuman Chalisa to control anger
- Monday: offer water on a Shivling
- Eat at least one meal a day together as a family, without phones

- Practically: the tradition's own instruction here is that the person who stops responding in anger first is doing the strongest remedy in the house

Health keeps troubling you

Planets: Sun (vitality), Moon (mind), Saturn (chronic conditions)

- See a doctor first. Every time. No exceptions. Remedies support treatment; they do not replace it.
- Daily: offer water to the rising sun
- Fix your sleep and eat at regular times — dinacharya, the fixed daily routine, is treated in the texts as a remedy in itself
- Saturday: feed dogs and crows; give food to the sick and elderly
- Daily: Mahamrityunjaya Mantra — Om Tryambakam Yajamahe Sugandhim Pushtivardhanam, Urvarukamiva Bandhanan Mrityor Mukshiya Maamritat — the traditional mantra for health and healing
- Serve someone who is ill

Court cases and legal trouble

Planets: Saturn (justice), Mars (disputes), Sun (government)

- Daily: Hanuman Chalisa
- Saturday: mustard oil offered at a Shani temple; blankets and food given to the poor
- Sunday: offer water to the rising sun
- Do not lie in the matter, at any point. Saturn is the judge; the tradition holds that dishonesty during a Saturn-ruled dispute rebounds directly on the one who lies.

- Offer to settle fairly, even at a small loss, if it can be settled.
Giving up a little for peace is stated as a Mars and Saturn remedy in itself.

Studies and exams

Planets: Mercury (intelligence), Jupiter (wisdom)

- Wednesday: Om Gan Ganapataye Namah; donate books, pens and notebooks to poor students
- Thursday: respect your teachers; wear yellow; give chana dal in charity
- Keep a green plant on your study table
- Study facing east or north
- Keep the study space clean and uncluttered
- Teach something you know to someone who needs it — a direct Mercury remedy

Everything is delayed and nothing moves

Planet: Saturn

- Read Chapter 8 fully and Chapter 13 on Sade Sati
- Daily: Hanuman Chalisa
- Saturday: feed dogs and crows; give blankets, shoes and food to the poor
- Keep one routine unbroken
- Be patient. Saturn delays; it rarely denies. Every action taken cleanly during this period is stored and returned later.

Fear, anxiety and a mind that will not rest

Planets: Moon (mind), Rahu (fear)

- Daily: Om Namah Shivaya, 108 times, before sleep
- Monday: offer water on a Shivling; wear white; serve your mother
- Daily: Durga Chalisa or Hanuman Chalisa
- No screens for an hour before sleep
- Sit for five minutes daily watching the breath
- Practically, and importantly: if anxiety is severe or persistent, please speak to a doctor or a counsellor. The tradition supports healing; it was never meant to be the only help a suffering person gets.

Chapter 13: Sade Sati – The Seven and a Half Years of Saturn

Almost every Indian has heard of Sade Sati, and most of what they have heard is frightening and wrong.

What it actually is

Saturn takes about thirty years to complete one round of the zodiac, spending roughly two and a half years in each sign. Sade Sati is the seven-and-a-half-year period when Saturn transits the sign before your Moon sign, your Moon sign itself, and the sign after it. Everyone experiences it, roughly every thirty years, two or three times in a life.

The three phases

First phase (2.5 years) — Saturn in the 12th from your Moon. Expenses rise. Sleep is disturbed. Things you relied on start to loosen. Often a change of place.

Second phase (2.5 years) — Saturn on your Moon. The heaviest phase. Mental pressure, health matters, family responsibilities, a feeling of carrying weight alone. This is the phase people mean when they speak of Sade Sati.

Third phase (2.5 years) — Saturn in the 2nd from your Moon. Financial pressure and family matters, but easing. The results of the previous five years start becoming visible.

What Sade Sati is not

It is not a curse, and it is not seven and a half years of disaster. Many people have built their most important work during Sade Sati. Saturn removes what is not solid — weak relationships, unstable jobs, illusions about yourself — and it is that removal that hurts, not Saturn's dislike of you.

The traditional view is worth holding on to: Saturn does not create your difficulty; it delivers the result of what you built. Someone who has lived honestly, worked steadily and treated people well often finds Sade Sati demanding but productive. The same period is far harder on someone who has taken shortcuts.

Remedies for Sade Sati

- Hanuman Chalisa daily. The single most widely practised remedy for Sade Sati in India, without exception.
- Feed crows and stray dogs daily. A roti a day is enough.
- Saturday: mustard oil lamp; black sesame, blankets, shoes and food given to the poor and elderly
- Serve the elderly and workers. Actively look for the opportunity.
- Do not take shortcuts. During Sade Sati, results return quickly — good and bad alike.
- Keep one routine unbroken for the whole period
- Be patient and do not panic. Do not make dramatic decisions out of fear; Saturn punishes panic more than it punishes slowness.
- Recite the Dasharatha Shani Stotra or the Shani Chalisa on Saturdays

How to know if you are in it

You need your Moon sign (rashi), which comes from your birth date, time and place. Any free panchang site or astrology app will calculate your Sade Sati period once you enter these. Do not guess it from your sun sign — Vedic astrology works from the Moon.

Chapter 14: Free Household Remedies – Every Item You Already Own

Every remedy in this chapter costs almost nothing. This is where the tradition is at its most practical.

Item	Planet	How to use it
Water	Moon, Sun	Offer to the rising sun in copper; offer on a Shivling on Monday
Rice	Moon, Venus	Give in charity on Monday and Friday
Wheat	Sun	Give with jaggery on Sunday
Jaggery (gud)	Sun, Jupiter	Feed to a cow; give in charity
Turmeric	Jupiter	Tilak on forehead; wrapped in yellow cloth in the cash box
Black sesame (til)	Saturn	Give in charity on Saturday; flow in water
Mustard oil	Saturn	Light a lamp Saturday evening under a peepal tree
Moong dal	Mercury	Give in charity on Wednesday
Chana dal	Jupiter	Feed to a cow on Thursday with jaggery
Masoor dal	Mars	Give in charity on Tuesday
Curd	Venus, Moon	Eat before leaving for important work; give in charity
Milk	Moon	Offer on a Shivling on Monday
Copper vessel	Sun	Store drinking water overnight; use for sun offering
Silver item	Moon, Venus	Keep with you; drink water from a silver glass
Red cloth	Mars, Sun	Offer at a Hanuman temple

Item	Planet	How to use it
Yellow cloth	Jupiter	Keep in the cash box with turmeric
White cloth	Moon, Venus	Give in charity on Monday and Friday
Black cloth	Saturn	Give in charity on Saturday
Coconut	Rahu	Keep at home; flow in running water in difficulty
Mustard seeds	Rahu	Give in charity
Roti	Saturn, Ketu	Feed to a stray dog and a crow daily
Green plant	Mercury	Keep at home; never let it dry
Tulsi plant	Jupiter, general	Keep at home; water daily; light a lamp in the evening
Peepal tree	Jupiter, Saturn	Water on Saturday; light a mustard oil lamp beneath it
Cow	All planets	Feeding a cow benefits every planet; the universal remedy
Birds	Rahu, general	Feed daily, especially at sunrise and sunset
Stray dog	Saturn, Ketu	Feed a roti daily — one of the most powerful and easiest remedies

The five remedies that work for everything

If you remember nothing else from this book, remember these. Traditional teachers prescribe them for any affliction, in any chart, at any time.

1. Feed a stray dog and a crow, every day. Saturn, Ketu, and general obstacle removal.
2. Water a peepal tree on Saturday evening and light a mustard oil lamp beneath it. Saturn, Jupiter, and long-standing difficulty.
3. Feed a cow. All nine planets. There is no remedy considered more universally beneficial in the tradition.
4. Serve your parents. Father for the Sun, mother for the Moon. This is stated across the texts as outweighing every ritual.
5. Recite the Hanuman Chalisa daily. For Mars, Saturn, Rahu, fear, enemies and obstacles of every kind.

Five remedies. All free. All doable by anyone, in any home, starting tomorrow morning.

Chapter 15: Your 40-Day Plan

Here is how to actually do this, instead of reading it and forgetting it.

Week 0 — Preparation (2 days)

1. Go back to Chapter 1 and identify your planet. Write it down.
2. Read that planet's chapter twice.
3. Buy what you need — most of it is under a hundred rupees.
4. Pick your start date: that planet's own day.
5. Make a 40-box chart on paper and put it where you will see it every morning.

Days 1–40 — The practice

EVERY DAY:

- The daily remedy from your planet's chapter (5 minutes)
- The mantra, 108 times
- One item from that chapter's conduct list, deliberately practised
- Feed a stray dog or a crow
- Tick the box on your chart

ON YOUR PLANET'S DAY, EACH WEEK:

- The full weekly remedy
- The charity
- The dietary restriction if you are keeping one

Do not miss a single day. If you miss one, start again from day one. That rule is what makes this work.

After 40 days

Write down what changed. Be honest — note what improved, what did not, and what changed in you rather than around you.

Then either continue with the same planet for another 40 days, or move to the second planet from your Chapter 1 assessment.

What to expect, honestly

The traditional teaching is that remedies do not work like switches. They work like changing the direction of a river — slowly, and then all at once.

What people most commonly report first is not an external event. It is that the mind settles. The panic reduces. Sleep improves. Decisions get clearer. And from a clearer mind, better decisions get made, and from better decisions, circumstances change.

Whether you understand that as the planets responding or as a person becoming disciplined, generous and calm over forty days, the outcome that matters is the same one. The tradition and common sense arrive at the same place here, and there is no need to choose between them.

Start tomorrow morning.

Quick Reference

THE NINE PLANETS AT A GLANCE

Planet	Day	Colour	Charity	Simple Mantra
Sun	Sunday	Red	Wheat, jaggery	Om Suryaya Namah
Moon	Monday	White	Rice, milk	Om Somaya Namah
Mars	Tuesday	Red	Masoor dal	Om Angarakaya Namah
Mercury	Wednesday	Green	Moong dal, books	Om Budhaya Namah

THE SEVEN RULES

1. Do it yourself
2. Start on the right day
3. Continue 40 days unbroken
4. Never more than two planets at once
5. Charity must reach someone who needs it
6. Conduct is the real remedy
7. Never wear a gemstone without expert consultation

This book presents traditional Vedic remedies as they have been practised and handed down in India for generations. It is offered for spiritual guidance and cultural understanding. These practices are not a proven science and are not a substitute for professional medical, legal, financial or psychological advice.

Please consult qualified professionals for those matters, and use these remedies alongside practical action rather than in place of it.
